90th FIDE Congress in Abu Dhabi: Day 1

Update: February 28, 08:05 GMT

The FIDE family keeps growing: today we have confirmed Cayman Islands, Chad, Equatorial Guinea, Grenada, St. Lucia, and St. Kitts and Nevis, a new member federations. That brings total membership to 195, making FIDE the 4th largest sports federation by number of member countries.

Update: February 28, 07: 25 GMT

His Highness, Sheikh Sultan Bin Khalifa Al Nehyan: "It is an honor for me to welcome you all to the 90th FIDE Congress here in Abu Dhabi - my home. UAE and chess share a long association. Chess is a passion shared by all of us, including myself."

Update: February 27, 12:05 GMT

The Planning and Development Commission (<https://pdc.fide.com>) organized a federation management workshop. Marco Verdoia, who recently joined FIDE's marketing department, gave a brief speech in which he highlighted the importance of brand-building.

Why is it important to develop your brand?

- 1) Increased internal and external engagement: A strong brand can drive your long-term strategic goals, increase public trust, increase internal cohesion, increase awareness about your activities and your work, build your reputation.
- 2) Standing out: Developing your brand will help you stand out amongst other sports organizations and get your message across in a noisy space.
- 3) Increased Trust and Loyalty: When a brand has been intentionally crafted, properly positioned and aligned to its target audiences, the trust and loyalty of the audience increase.
- 4) Increased opportunities to attract sponsors: In the sports industry, the competition for funding is high. A strong brand can help you attract more sponsors and achieve your fundraising goals by increasing visibility and credibility of your organizations and generating support.

The workshop also included some guidelines for how to pitch potential partners with an event sponsorship proposal.

Step 4: Determine sponsor compatibility

There are some questions you should answer to use when considering a potential sponsorship compatibility:

- Do we have an existing relationship or connection?
- Are our marketing objectives similar enough?
- About how many events have they sponsored in the past?
- Are we evenly matched in terms of company and/or audience size?
- Are their business operations of a similar size (local versus international, etc.)?
- Do their key brand elements and values closely match ours?
- Do their primary competitors use event sponsorship to their advantage?
- Which sponsors provide the most opportunity for us to achieve our event objectives?

Update: February 27, 11:05 GMT

FIDE's Executive Director Victor Bologan presented to the attendants the "Chess-ID" project, aimed at uniting all chess players, officials and other stakeholders involved in chess activities around the world, under one/unique FIDE umbrella.

This project is FIDE's response to a serious issue: the lack of big data and global figures. The chess community needs to tackle this problem in order to access new sources of funding.

Update: February 27, 10:20 GMT

The President of the International Chess Federation Arkady Dvorkovich addressed the attendees of the 2020 FIDE Extraordinary General Assembly. He thanked the Federations for their work, highlighting that FIDE is about to reach the 200-member federations milestone.

Lessons Learned and Way Forward

We expect that for the early part of the year, we have to limit ourselves to online tournaments.

By April/May we shall have hybrid chess events such as the Continental Championship as required to qualify players to the FIDE World Cup.

Hopefully by the latter part of the year we can organize Over-the-Board tournaments again.
